We take to the 'wine-dark' Aegean for an island-hopping trip to find the legendary island of Atlantis, swallowed up by the sea 3500 years ago. Sailing by ferryboat along the necklace of Cycladic islands, we stop over for several days on Syros, Paros, Santorini and Naxos, with accommodation at small hotels. A relaxed trip, its free-form style is designed to make the most of the local scene, potent wines and delicious seafood, classic sites, picturesque towns, blue sky and clear waters. There are plenty of opportunities for exploring on foot, taking part in walks with spectacular views, inaccessible in any other way. All walks are optional, so you can do as much or as little as you wish.

LAND ONLY ITINERARY

Be Prepared: While our intention is to adhere to the day-to-day route published below, a degree of flexibility is built into the itinerary. The Greek ferry network can be somewhat chaotic, so overnight stops may vary from those suggested and travelling times between the islands may be affected by re-scheduling of local ferry departure times. As is standard practice in Greek hotels, air-conditioning at certain nightstops will be charged for, at a supplement of €4 or €5 per day.

Accommodation and Included Meals: please find the key to our accommodation ratings overleaf, and note that included meals are indicated in the itinerary below and are shown on the day they are provided (B = breakfast, L = lunch, D = dinner).

Day 1. Join tour Athens

Arrive Athens and check-in to hotel.

2 nights hotel H+.

Day 2. In Athens

Athens has been the capital of Greece for less than 200 years but it has grown rapidly in size. It is part of the Plain of Attica, an area of amazingly varied scenery, of high mountains and pine forests with a stunningly beautiful seacoast and myriad harbours. We include a walking tour of Plaka and soak up the atmosphere of this old town. You may stroll around the shops, try the freshly caught fish and seafood, listen to bouzouki music in an outdoor cafe. You'll notice the contrast between the modern capital and the old one – the well-heeled inhabitants of Kolonaki on the one hand and the vibrant Plaka quarter on the other. Time is also left for personal sightseeing, so your tour leader will suggest things to see and do – a tour of the Acropolis, climbing the winding path to the top of this

Earth Matters

- As there are no recycling facilities for plastics in this area, to cut down on waste plastic resulting from buying bottled water, why not consider taking your own water purification filter and water bottle with you on holiday? These are available from all good outdoors shops, or through the Explore Trader catalogue.
- Water is a scarce commodity on some of the Greek Islands, particularly during the long hot summer. Try to see where you could cut down on usage.

sacred rock (used since neolithic times) is a particular favourite. Here are the majestic ruins of the Athens of Pericles: the Propylaea (or marble entrance hall), the Parthenon (built by Ictinos 2500 years ago), the Temple of Athena Nike (the Wingless Victory) and – the monument most venerated by the ancient Athenians themselves – the Erechtheion. Tradition relates that gods Athena and Poseidon quarrelled here. The sea-god struck the rock with his trident, causing salt water to gush out, while Athena struck it with her spear and brought forth an olive tree. As olives were deemed to be more useful, the other gods let her take the city under her protection. (Included meals: B).

Days 3 & 4. Sail to Syros; on Syros

We transfer from our hotel to Piraeus and board the ferryboat for Syros. The ferry voyage takes about 4 hours. We disembark at Syros harbour and transfer to our hotel. Syros is the capital of the Cyclades and has an area of about 35 square miles. Ermopouli, the capital, is situated on the east of the island, its port a bustling centre of inter-island commerce. We plan to explore the coastline along the south of the island or you can also make your way through old Ano-Syros, a maze of tiny unspoiled streets affording great views of the coast. On our second day on the island we may take a walk along coastal trails (3-5 hours). Pherekides, the teacher of Pythagoras, was born on Syros. The island also produces 'loukoumi' (Turkish Delight). 2 nights hotel H+ (included meals: Bx2).

Days 5 to 7. Sail to Paros; on Paros

Leaving Syros we sail to Paros (approx 2 hours) and transfer to our hotel. Paros is one of the most attractive of all the Cycladic islands, with an area of 64 square miles. Its capital is Paroikia, on the west coast. Dominating the interior is Mount Profitas Ilias (770m) on the slopes of which are the famous marble quarries. The island was the birthplace of the poet Archilochos, the inventor of iambic verse. Among the many places of interest are the marble quarries, the fishing villages and a Venetian Fortress. Especially interesting is the church, Ekatonpiliiani (Church of 100 Doors), about which legend says that when the 100th door is discovered the Greeks will take back Constantinople (Istanbul). You may choose to take a walk along one of the well preserved Byzantine paths that cross the island using public transport to reach the trailhead at the traditional mountain village of Lefkes. You may also choose to take an excursion by small craft to the nearby island of Antiparos (optional). Whilst there, head for the southerly end of the island, to an interesting stalactite cavern. There is also the opportunity to explore the marine life of the area with local oceanographers who run diving and snorkelling trips. 3 nights hotel H+ (included meals: Bx3).

Days 8 to 10. Sail to Santorini; on Santorini

We sail from Paros usually by the island of Ios to Santorini (approx 4 hours) which lying some 128 nautical miles southeast of Piraeus, is the most southerly of the Cycladic Islands. Formerly a huge volcano, its centre disappeared in an enormous explosion around 1450 BC and now forms a lagoon. The eruption overwhelmed the Minoan settlements at Akrotiri as well as those on Crete. As you sail through the centre of this crater towards the harbour Athinios, the views that meet you are spectacular. Whitewashed towns cling to the edge of the crater and in the middle of the lagoon you will see the volcanically active Kameni islands. The island is largely waterless and the mining of pumice ash was once one of the main industries. Two walks are available on Santorini; one day we plan to take the coastal path to Oia. Situated on the west of the island, it is one of the best spots to watch the sunset into Homer's wine dark sea. We also plan to walk to the ruins of the former capital Thira. Its 6th century BC site is of much interest with its temples and spectacular views. Santorini (or Thira, as the island is also known) is one of the most picturesque areas in the Aegean and the familiar images of whitewashed churches with blue-domed roofs adorn this beautiful landscape. It is also an area of particular interest to those keen on the Lost Atlantis legend (see note below). There are good beaches of black sand at Kamari and Perissa and plenty of time for personal explorations. For those who wish, there is the opportunity to take the dramatic path to the peak of the active volcano, to stand in the centre of the Caldera. Followed by a leisurely cruise, via warm springs to the tiny island of Thirasia, blown apart from Santorini in the cataclysmic eruption of 1450 BC (optional). 3 nights hotel H+ (included meals: Bx3).

Days 11 to 13. Sail to Naxos; on Naxos

After our voyage from Santorini (approx 3 hours) we disembark at Naxos harbour and walk to our hotel. The island of Naxos itself is the largest and some would argue the most beautiful of the Cyclades. The god Dionysus is believed to have lived on the island and taught the inhabitants to cultivate wine.

Indeed, Naxos white wine today has a good reputation. Myth also has it that Theseus deserted Ariadne at Naxos on his way back to Athens from Crete. Over the years, the island has been subjugated by many nations, including the corsair Barbarossa. The interior is divided by fertile and well-watered valleys. There are many places of interest on the island, linked by a good road network. Naxos town is not architecturally recommended but the Kastro, just above and behind the town, encloses an area of picturesque though decaying houses, Venetian in style and with coats of arms. Besides wine, the island also exports olive oil, corn, fruits of many kinds and marble which is comparable in quality to that of Paros. On one of our days on Naxos, there is an option to walk to the summit of Mount Zeus, the highest peak on the Cyclades. Taking a taxi inland we shall walk for about 1 to 2 hours to reach the peak, which offers excellent views back over the island. The path taken is good but gets rocky towards the summit, so walking boots or shoes with good ankle support are recommended. For individual sightseeing there are regular buses and taxis available. Good beaches are St. George, St. Prokopios and St. Anna. You may choose to take an optional boat trip out to the islands of Delos and Mykonos. 3 nights hotel H+ (included meals: Bx3).

Day 14. Ferry to Athens

We take the ferry back to mainland Greece today sailing through the Aegean sea, (approx 5.5 hours). The journey takes us through the Cyclades islands and the boat pulls into Piraeus harbour in the late afternoon. On arrival we transfer to our hotel to enjoy our last night in Greece's bustling capital.

Overnight hotel H+ (included meals: B).

Day 15. Tour ends Athens

(Included meals: B).

Booking a Single Room

All of our tours are planned and operated on a twin-share basis, meaning that the standard cost is based either on individual travellers sharing accommodation with another group member of the same sex, or people who book together sharing accommodation. On this particular tour we are pleased to be able to offer customers the option of pre-booking a guaranteed single room for each night of the tour.

EXPLORE ACCOMMODATION RATINGS : An important feature of many Explore tours is the wide range of accommodation used, and since the beginning our philosophy has been to select accommodation to suit the itinerary - not the other way round.

To help gauge the comfort level on your chosen tour, we have graded the accommodation standards at all night-stops using the rating guide below. Please keep in mind however that standards can vary from one trip to the next, and occasionally we may need to change a night-stop without advance warning.

Hotels / lodges / guesthouses - or similar

H++ : Comfortable hotels, lodges or guesthouses with twin or single rooms and en suite facilities. With air-conditioning/heating where appropriate and with reliable hot and cold water. Generally good levels of service and often with added amenities such as restaurant, bar, gardens or swimming pool.

H+ : Standard hotels, lodges or guesthouses, usually with twin or single rooms and en suite facilities. These are generally standard, no-frills hotels with adequate amenities and service standards. Whilst comfort levels are perfectly acceptable to most, please don't expect too much! These are often small, family run establishments.

H : Basic hotels, lodges or guesthouses (also village houses, mountain huts, hotels etc often come into this category). Accommodation may be communal or dorm-style, and WC / washing facilities are usually shared. Running hot and cold water may be unreliable or even unavailable. These can be the most rewarding and memorable places to stay, but comfort levels are low.

Camping

C++ : Comfortable, full service camping generally in permanent, fixed camps with walk-in tents, proper beds and often with en-suite facilities and other amenities such as dining area, bar, gardens and a swimming pool. Your bed-linen is provided.

C+ : Standard camping in private or public campsites, usually with WC and washing / showering facilities in a shared ablutions building. Typically in two person tents, and some level of participation is often required. Generally bed linen or sleeping bags are not provided.

C : Basic camping in wild camps where facilities / amenities may be limited or non-existent. Generally there is no running water, and we dig a temporary bush toilet. Two person tents are often used, but occasionally we sleep under the stars. Participation normally required and sleeping bags usually not provided.

Note: other accommodation, for example, aboard boats or on overnight sleeper trains is described individually at the appropriate point in the tour itinerary above.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Seasonal Climate

The climate is Mediterranean and summers in the south are hot, temperatures sometimes reaching over 40°C although in the Cyclades this is freshened by the 'Meltemi', strong north winds. The spring and autumn months are best, and of course the islands are decidedly less crowded.

Additional information and climate charts can be accessed at <http://www.explore.co.uk/> weather. Seasonal weather patterns can be unpredictable. Up-to-date information on the weather worldwide can be found by following the BBC weather link on this page.

Entry visas are NOT required by UK, EU, AUS, NZ, USA, CAN. citizens. Other nationalities should consult the relevant consulate.

All visa information is subject to change. You should confirm all visa related issues with the relevant Embassy prior to departure.

Vaccinations & Protection

Nothing compulsory but we recommend protection against tetanus and polio.

Special Note: Visa and vaccination requirements are subject to change and should be confirmed before departure.

The above is not an exhaustive list. Further information regarding vaccinations and travel health advice can be found by following the NHS and NaTHNaC links at <http://www.explore.co.uk/Travelhealth/> and from your local healthcare provider.

Electric Supply and Plugs

Travel insurance is compulsory for all bookings. You must take your policy document with you on tour, as your tour leader will ask to see this at the start of the trip. Your documentation must state in writing that you are the named policyholder and that the cover is valid for your period of travel. Your policy document must also indicate that you have medical expenses and emergency repatriation cover and a 24-hour contact telephone number for your Insurance Company must be shown on your documentation in case of emergency.

PACKING FOR YOUR TRIP

A complete list of clothing and personal gear is contained in Explore's 'General Information Booklet', available only after a booking has been accepted. Here we make a few specific recommendations with regard to your tour.

Luggage: One main piece of luggage and a daysac. Total allowance: 44lbs/20kgs. *You will have to carry your own luggage on and off ferries. Not many hotels have lifts and porters are not always available so dont overload yourself.

Clothing: Pack essentially for 'All Tours' plus 'Hot Conditions'. July and August are the hottest months though the islands are freshened by cooling sea breezes. Early and late in the season, bring a light plastic raincoat and a thick warm sweater to help fend off the unexpected chilling wind that races across the open deck of a ferryboat between the islands.

Footwear: Lightweight walking boots (especially for volcanoes as flip flops melt) or stout shoes with good ankle support for island walks and sandals/trainers for relaxing.

Equipment: We recommend taking a waterbottle, sunhat, a torch, suncream and insect repellent; sink plug.

The Mystery of Lost Atlantis:

Did the lost continent of Atlantis ever exist or is it a figment of the imagination?

The tale first appeared in Plato's 'Dialogues' some 400 years BC, as a parable to show how heaven punishes those who worship false Gods. He located the lost city in the Great Ocean beyond the Pillars of Hercules (Gibraltar) – and hinted that it was true. So was it the stuff of legend or folklore or should it be taken literally? Atlantis has since been sited in the Bahamas, the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands, the Canaries and Madeira. However, excavations begun in 1967 at Akrotiri (currently closed) on Santorini reveal an ancient city buried under layers of ash from a cataclysmic explosion 3500 years ago – perhaps the best claim to be the site of the idyllic city. The same eruption contributed to the downfall of Minoan Crete.
