We take an extraordinary journey into the mountains of southern China to witness the lives and centuries-old festivals of the minority tribes of the Guizhou region. We've timed our visit to coincide with four exciting village festivals. During these colourful and photogenic celebrations everyone turns out in their most spectacular traditional costume to enjoy singing, dancing and sports. For a rare and fascinating insight into the lives of a traditional Miao family, we spend two nights living with them and learning about their customs and traditions.

Suitability

We've given each of our tours a comfort rating and a tour pace, walking or cycling grade to give you a general idea about the level of activity on each tour and the standard of accommodation you will be staying in at the end of your day's adventure.

Often you'll stay in different styles of accommodation during your tour; so we make an average rating across the entire tour. For more information on where you'll stay each night, please refer to the day by day tour itinerary.

DAY 1 Join tour in Guiyang, Guizhou's capital

Our tour starts in Guiyang, the capital of Guizhou Province. The city lies on the banks of the Nanming River on the central slopes of the Miaoling Mountains.

Guizhou has an extremely rich mix of minority tribes including the Miao, Bouyi, Dong, Zhuang, Yao and Bai. Its landscape of karst mountains, plunging waterfalls and terraced rice fields provide a spectacular setting for this journey into the heart of the region's tribal culture.

Overnight: Standard Hotel
Single Room Available

 Included Meals: None

DAY 2 Explore the markets of Guiyang. Drive to Liuzhi

Guiyang is now very much a modern city and representative of China's booming economy. After our tour briefing this morning, we plan some easy-going sightseeing to mingle amongst its inhabitants and soak up the atmosphere of some of the more interesting spots such as the bustling Flower and Bird market. We also see Guiyang's landmark, the 20 meter high Jiaxiulou Tower which dates back to the 16th century. In the afternoon we drive west out of the city to Luizhi, the base for our visit to the Longhorn Miao villages of Longga.

Overnight: Standard Hotel
Single Room Available

 Included Meals: Breakfast

DAY 3 Attend Tiaohuacha festival of the Longhorn Miao

This morning we drive into the mountains around Longga to attend the Tiaohuacha festival of the Longhorn Miao. Their name comes from the large 'horns' of hair with which the woman adorn themselves and both these and their traditional embroidered clothing are very striking. There are approximately four thousand Longhorn Miao people living in 12 villages around Longga. Poor transportation has historically prevented them from having much contact with the outside world and life has changed little, keeping the old traditions alive. Even today, marriage is still arranged within the tribe and the Tiaohuacha festival is an important opportunity for young people to find a marriage partner. We will attend on the 10th and final day of the festival when locals from all the villages gather together in their best outfits to sing and dance throughout the day in the open air. Each evening during the festival, young boys from a village go together to another village to look for girls. At the same time, the girls in the village gather together to wait for the boys coming. When the boys arrive, they all sit together in a communal room with a fire in the middle and sing to each other to express their affections throughout the night. The boys go home the following morning and return again in the evening if they find a girl who takes their fancy. At the end of the day we return to Luizhi for the night.

Overnight: Standard Hotel
Single Room Available

 Included Meals: Breakfast

DAY 4 Visit Huangguoshu Falls and a Bouyi stone village

Today we will visit the spectacular Huangguoshu (Yellow Fruit Tree) Falls, the largest in China and reputedly the longest drop of any falls in Asia, measuring an impressive 84 metres and over 80 metres in width. A series of steep, water soaked steps leads to a suspension bridge that crosses into a verdant, forested landscape, where there may be an opportunity to walk behind the falls and enter the impressive 100m long 'Water Curtain Cave' that lies behind it. Later we visit a Bouyi village built of stone. The Bouyi have inhabited this region since Stone Age times, mainly occupying the fertile landscapes along the valleys and rivers and their deft skills with embroidery and brocade are renowned. We overnight in the nearby city of Anshun.

Overnight: Standard Hotel
Single Room Available

 Included Meals: Breakfast

DAY 5 Attend a Lusheng festival near Kaili. Continue to our Miao family homestay

Today we will attend a Lusheng courtship festival near Kaili. The Lusheng is a traditional reed pipe wind instrument of the Miao that is played at and has given its name to the courtship festivals of the tribe. Lasting two days in each village, the festivals take place on the 5th - 23rd of the 1st lunar month in different villages around Kaili. During the festival, Miao villagers gather together and dance in the village square, wearing their finest costumes. These outfits can be so complicated to dress and undress that the girls' mothers are always in attendance to lend a hand. In the square, people dance in circles while in the middle folk musicians play the Lusheng. As the girls dance in the square, the men watch buffaloes fighting in the fields. After enjoying the festival we will continue to Nande village where we will stay with Miao families. The number of homestays used will depend on the size of the group. This is a unique opportunity to observe the everyday rural life of this minority group. Please be prepared for very simple accommodation with between 2-4 persons sharing a room and also sharing the simple toilet and washing facilities of the family which are located outside of the house. All bedding will be provided although you may wish to bring your own sleeping sheet. You will also need to bring a small towel.

Overnight: Simple Homestay

 Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

DAY 6 Spend time with our hosts and visit other Miao villages from our homestay

We spend today both with our hosts in Nande and a visit to other Miao villages in the area. One of the larger of China's ethnic minorities the Miao are a deeply spiritual people who are thought to have originated from the Yellow River valleys some 4,500 year ago. Famed for their exceptional skills with embroidery and handicrafts, the Miao are known for the ornate headdresses that they wear during festivities, the women adorning themselves with elaborate silver headdresses and jewellery, their hand woven and brightly coloured clothes bedecked with intricate embroidery. Even the men dress to impress, sometimes wearing light coloured turbans and huge silver ringed necklaces.

Overnight: Simple Homestay

 Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

DAY 7 Drive to Leishan for the Dragon Festival

Driving to Leishan, we'll meet the villagers who will teach us the Dragon Dance. We'll join them in the parade in to the town and take part in the festival with our own Dragon and colourful waistcoats.

DAY 8 Visit the Miao villages of Shudian, Paika and Datang. Attend fire-dragon dance festival in Leishan

We will enjoy walks in the fields where water wheels are still used to get the water from rivers to the fields. In the afternoon, we return to Leishan to see the preparations for the evening fire-dragon dance festival celebrations. When it's getting dark, 20 to 30 firework-laden dragons will dance through the streets of the town with people setting off fireworks on the way. They dance from one family to another to give blessings and good wishes for the coming year.

DAY 9 Full day in Leishan to attend the post festival village feast

 Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

DAY 10 Drive to Zhenyuan via Tailjiang and Shidong. Explore the town.

Today we take a drive through the Miao heartlands to Zhenyuan via the town of Shidong. Shidong is famous for its 'Sisters' rice festival', an annual event that sees villagers descending on the area from the remote mountain regions in search of a partner. Ancient Zhengyuan was founded as a Ming outpost guarding the trade routes into central China and covers an area of just over 3 square kilometres. It has been inhabited by the Miao for centuries and is an atmospheric place littered with relics of the past. We aim to explore the old quarter on foot and take a walk up the hillside behind the town for a bird's eye view of the traditional style houses.

Overnight: Standard Hotel
Single Room Available

 Included Meals: Breakfast

DAY 11 Optional walks, drive to Kaili

Today we walk along the Wuyang River and if the water is high enough we'll cross at the old dock by a traditional ferry which is held by a cable across the river and pulled by a boatman. Locals have been crossing the river on this kind of boat for hundreds of years and still do to this day. We then walk on part of the old city wall, through old streets and along the riverside back to the hotel. Later we drive to Kaili.

The city and its surrounding villages will play host to a major Lusheng festival with some of the most spectacular costumes, music and traditional dancing. We plan to attend the opening ceremony and watch the dances in nearby Zhouxi village. At festival time the Miao women wear their stunning silver jewellery often piling on five or six neck rings at a time as well as chains, coins, chest locks and multiple headdresses. Much of this silver was originally obtained from melting old coins. The festival is very much a time for the people to get together and socialize and be entertained by singing and dancing with markets also set up for trading goods.
